Members of the Sgt. Joseph M. Moore Family, of Elba, placed flowers at the monument at the Veterans Park during ceremonies Monday. Sgt. Moore was killed in Vietnam and is honored by being included on the plaque that was unveiled Monday inscribed with those from Coffee County who gave their lives during the war.

A crowd estimated at over 500 was on hand Monday morning to view the Memorial Day ceremonies at the Veterans Park, located in Elba on the grounds of National Security Insurance Company. Those in attendance honored all veterans and paid special tribute to those county veterans who were killed in the Vietnam Era.

Vietnam Vets Honored At Memorial Day Ceremony In Elba

A "Memorial Day" ceremony was held on Monday, May 29, 1989, at the Veterans Memorial Park, located on the grounds of the National Security Insurance Company to honor the soldiers from Coffee County that served the nation during the Vietnam Era.

Today we are gathered to honor the men and women of our Armed Forces who served during the Vietnam Era," stated National Security president J.R. Brunson, "and to pay special tribute to those from Coffee County. To all who served we say 'Thank You' and 'Welcome Home'."

"Many who fought did not make it home to their family and friends," said Brunson, "but gave their lives for their country. We remember the Coffee Countians who died on this Memorial Day with the dedication of a plaque in the 'Plaza of Honor' bearing their names. Family members are here today to remember their loved ones and will participate in a special ceremony, along with Vietnam veterans who reside in the area."

"To all who served we say Thank You and Welcome Home"

"We gratefully acknowledge the participation of these individuals and also express our thanks to the Vietnam Veterans of America, Ft. Rucker Chapter, for their assistance in preparing today's ceremony," stated Brunson.

Elba Church of Christ Minister Bob Prichard delivered the invocation at the ceremony, while Maxie Roberts led the large gathering in the Pledge of Allegiance. After Mart Gray, Music Director at the First Baptist Church of Elba, sang the National Anthem, National Security executive M.L. Murdock recognized the special guests in attendance and introduced the featured speaker for the event, Michael J. Novosel.

Novosel is a veteran of World War II, Korea and Vietnam and was awarded the Medal of Honor in 1971. He was inducted into the Army Aviation Hall of Fame in 1975 and the main road through Ft. Rucker was named in his honor.

CWO Novosel delivered an inspirational address to the gathering and gave well deserved praise to all veterans and special praise to those who served in Vietnam.

The United States Army Color Guard, from Ft. Rucker, lowered the flag to half-mast to honor those who died in the Vietnam Era, and Elba Mayor Fred Moore and David Ventiere, a veteran of the Vietnam Era, unveiled the plaque honoring the soldiers from Coffee County who made the ultimate sacrifice on behalf of the nation.

Stewart Hansen gave the "Roll Call of Honor" and a 21-gun salute followed, as did a playing of "Taps."

Immediately after the ceremony, all Vietnam veterans in attendance were joined together for a group picture.

Those listed on the plaque included:

County DHR Investigated 31 Child Abuse Reports In April

The Coffee County Department of Human Resources released its monthly bulletin this week and in the report director Ronald C. Smith stated the agency remained "very busy."

"It seems that every month I am writing that we are very busy," stated Smith, "and it seems redundant every month saying the same thing, but I can't think of any better way of describing our agency's activity."

"Abused and neglected children and adults, drug and medical needs of children and adults, medical care for unborn, need for more nursing home spaces, need for adult foster care, need for more beds in our mental health system and a need for more publicity to make people aware of our needs are just a few examples of the needs on this agency's agenda," added Smith.

Children's Services supervisor Cathie Hansen reported that during the past month her office had investigated a total of 31 complaints involving children, with the complaints involving physical abuse-15, sexual abuse-3 and neglect-13.

Ms. Hansen announced that Ms. Mary Redmon-Payne had been selected as Coffee County's "Foster Parent of the Year."

"Ms. Redmon-Payne cares for teenagers," stated Ms. Hansen, "and she is very adept at helping these young men and women. She encourages the children to set goals, do well in school and see themselves as worthwhile people. She involves all her children in church and teaches many skills in learning to live independently to the teenagers. We can all be proud that Ms. Redmon-Payne's dedication makes a positive difference in the lives of her children!"

Adult Services and Adoptions supervisor Glenda Snipes reported that home visits to homemaker clients had been increased to provide better service to the clients.

Coffee County has a great number of elderly persons and we are committed to providing quality services," stated Mrs. Snipes.

Food Stamp Program supervisor Debbie Jones revealed that in April her office issued stamps to a total of 1,155 households, with the total number in the households being 2,907 and the total value of the stamps being $130,143.

Eligibility & Child Support Unit supervisor Dianne Parker reported her office was "very busy" in April, taking 61 applications.

Total child support collections during the month was $41,766.99.

RAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

This weekend is the time for the free boat ride down Pea River. The members of SeaBass will be taking folks on trips down the river all day Saturday and on Sunday afternoon. This has proven to be a very popular event with plenty of people taking advantage of the pleasant ride to the dam and back. This year the fishermen are getting some help by turning over the sale of concessions to the Band Boosters and they will concentrate on the river trips. We will see you there!

We wrote about the flowers at city hall several weeks ago but we need to repeat those words of advice. The display is beautiful and we strongly suggest everyone in town ride by slowly and take a good look at the blooms. We tried to make you a picture and put it in the paper, but our skills don't come up to the beauty of the display. They won't last forever so go today!

It is graduation time again and we see a lot of glowing faces and young men and young women reach that magical point in their life. We were sitting in church Sunday while a group of graduating high school seniors were being honored. We looked at their faces and allowed our mind to wander away from the preaching. We remembered our high school graduation, oh so many years ago, and the fact that after walking off that stage that night, we have never seen some of our classmates again! Now this was from a class of about thirty country folks that somehow found a ride to the big city and we never seem to return to the hometown at the same time. It would be hard to convince those graduating seniors that this was going to happen to them also. The tears in their eyes would last longer if they fully realized the above as a reality for them also.

The folks who have brought vegetables to the Farmer's Market on the square in Elba have been very successful on both Saturdays. In fact this past Saturday saw three folks selling out real early. String beans, squash and peaches were the going items last week. As more growers hear of the success and as greater varieties of fruits and vegetables become available, we expect the market to quietly grow. We hope so anyway.

We attended the ceremonies at Veterans Memorial Park Monday and were impressed with the facilities and with the turnout of vets and others. We were all there honoring all veterans but especially those who made that supreme sacrifice... they gave their lives in defense of freedom. We salute National Security for erecting this fitting tribute to those who served.

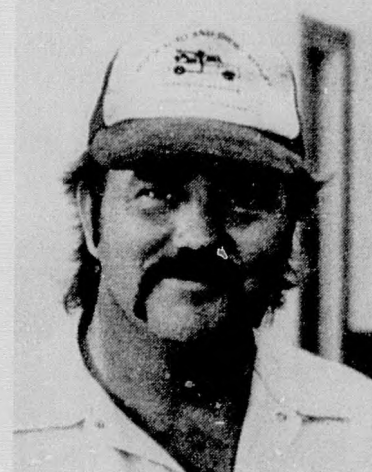

The bass fishermen are reporting good catches at the recently re-opened Coffee County Lake. We haven't had any bass fishermen doing a lot of bragging during the past week, but those after the largemouth are strutting around with their chin in the air tooting their success. Attendance was almost at capacity on opening day but probably by now most anyone could fish undisturbed most of the day... and catch plenty of fish!

We all read the warnings about the dangers of overexposure to the sun. There are also warnings about possible dangers to tanning booths. However, there is an additional warning about the sun and for the tanning booths. Certain medicines will make your skin more sensitive to the burns as witnessed in Portage, Ind., last week. A 45-year-old woman spent 25 minutes in a tanning booth and later died with burns over 70 percent of her body. It was a case of medicine she had taken making her skin more sensitive to light. Be careful!

We have been taunted because of the lack of fishing stories in this column in recent weeks. Well, the reason was... there were no first-hand reports to give! However we did slip off a few hours during the past weekend and caught fish. The bites were slow but when they did hit - hold on! We were beam fishing with a fiberglass pole and there weren't any nibbles, only fish with big mouths taking the whole thing at once. The tune they made with that fishing line as they pulled and the line played music would make the late great Hank Williams Sr. hang up his guitar and go fishing! We repeat, they were scattered and slow but when they ate, they got our attention.

The hype going on with the Russians about ending the arms race is encouraging. We don't think there can ever be a world where countries can completely disarm, because of upstarts in some little country trying to conquer the world. But then we can only kill each other once and you can only be so dead... bigger and meaner, more expensive killing tools will not make our enemy "any deader". By slowing this endless race, both countries may have more money available to solve some of the social ills that are now ignored. Just bringing home a few thousand troops will help them and their families spending money in the United States rather than in a foreign country.

WE RECEIVE LETTERS

Dear Editor,
On May 16, Gov. Hunt signed into law a 2-year moratorium on all new landfills in the state. This landmark legislation will change, for the better, the future of all Alabamians. It places control of waste disposal in the hands of the people, where it rightly belongs.

Those who opposed this bill - the private waste haulers and the Business Council - had at their disposal enormous manpower and resources. They spent untold sums on battalions of professional lobbyists; they gave their employees the day off with pay to be bused to the state house. They winned, dined and feted lawmakers, peddling their influence to any who could choke down their lies.

Those who supported the bill - the people of Alabama - had just that - people. And... a champion. One man in the House stood alone and resolute against all the might and money the opposition could muster. One man held firm in his belief that the will of the people is what really counts in a Democracy. One man endured insult and abuse, worked, argued and debated

"#1 PRIORITY"

Schools from kindergarten to the 12th grade.

Siegelman said the greatest need for strengthening the education of drug abuse would be formal education rather than outside support groups. Drug education is interwoven into the curriculum of other courses.

"Chemistry courses might talk about how the chemical components of drugs affect the mind and body. English courses might be used for students to do research and write papers on the effects of drugs and alcohol," Siegelman said.

Hunt said, "I think you are looking at a time coming when there will be more random drug testing done. The courts just ruled that DARE is an effective long-term solution to reduce the demand for drugs."

Siegelman said, "The penalties and the laws regarding drug traffickers have finally taken a place at the top of the national agenda. I believe we are turning the corner and are getting the message out to young people and to the drug dealers."

Child Restraint Laws Changed In State

The new Child Restraint Law, 89-781, requires that all children under age 6 be secured in a federally approved child restraint while riding in a motor vehicle.

The law stipulates that children age 4 and 5 may be secured in a regular seat belt instead of a child restraint. The law which became effective May 11 provides for a $10 fine upon conviction.

Previously Alabama's Child Restraint Law applied only to children under the age of 3.

The new Litter Legislation, 89-661, provides for the issuance of uniform traffic citations - traffic tickets - to those who commit the crime of littering on Alabama highways.

A litter violation is a Class C misdemeanor and subject to a fine of up to $500.

Garden Time

With spring and summer comes the time of gardening. There is the soil preparation, the planting of the seed, the weeding, and the harvest. The garden is a lot of work, but the end result is well worth the toil that went into it.

Why not pause for a moment and think of your spiritual life as a garden?

There is the preparation that went into your spiritual well-being. When you committed your life to the Lord Jesus Christ the seed had been sown. Now you are to "grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ."

Then comes the end result, a spiritual garden (life) that has grown and matured because of the proper preparation, planting, and weeding.

You see, proper care of the garden produces the proper fruit. The Song of Solomon, chapter 1, verse 6, says, "I made me the keeper of the vineyards; but mine eye was turned from the vineyard, and I have kept my vineyard, but I have not kept it." You must be constantly aware of YOUR garden.

It is easy to see the weeds and crooked rows in someone else's garden, but what about yours?

May God help you to keep your spiritual garden so that it will ever be pleasing to the Lord of Glory. May God help you to keep your spiritual garden so that, at the end of your life, you may be able to say with the Apostle Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day; and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing (II Timothy 4:7,8).

HRDC Seniors Meet

By Wanda Sasser

Much talk was about fresh vegetables, of which we had an abundance for lunch.

Some of the members played dominoes, and a delicious lunch was served to the following:

Myrl Burket, Jean Mauldin, Aileen English, Lila Pearl Spinks, Helen McCahan, Judge Marion Blackmon, Arthur Blackmon, Lex Blackmon, Minnie Davis, Mattie Lou Goodson, Zedie Bouyer, Texie Farris, Dixie Mae Maddox, M. Boling and Wanda Sasser.

Many of the seniors went to Dothan Wednesday to the Southern Alabama Council on Aging, which presented a special tribute to Wiregrass senior citizens.

We were among the many hundreds of seniors there. It was a very enjoyable day for all.

Quite a few of our members are on the sick list and not able to come to the meeting, and we miss them.

ANSWERS! TO YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS

Can a Christian serve in the military, and engage in warfare?

In our age when men have the capability to destroy the earth with nuclear weapons, war cannot be taken lightly. Some feel that the situation, rather than the scriptures determine their attitude toward military service. Military service was respected during World War II, but often not respected during the Viet Nam War era. Central to the question of whether a Christian can serve in the military, is the purpose of government. Paul wrote of civil government, "Let every soul be subject to the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God. . . . For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. . . . For he is the minister of God to thee for good." (Rom. 13:1-4). Since civil government is "ordained of God," it is the minister of God, the minister of God to thee for good. . . . Then Christians have a responsibility to support their government and be good citizens. As Paul wrote Romans, the Roman emperor was probably Nero, one of the more corrupt rulers of all time, and likely Paul met death at his hands. But he granted Nero the right to maintain law and order, because of his official capacity as ruler of Rome. Romans 12:19 forbids the individual Christian from rendering vengeance, but in Romans 13:4, Paul said that rendering vengeance was the responsibility of the civil government, acting as God's agent. "If thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he (the civil ruler) beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil." The Christian, under the authority of the civil government may carry out the law. Some have agreed that the civil government has a right to exist and enforce the laws, but a Christian cannot carry them out. But if it is wrong for a Christian to serve in the military, then it is wrong for anyone to serve.

Killing of enemies through war is said to be opposed to the love of enemies that Jesus proclaimed. Christians are to love their enemies. But this does not mean that the higher love for one's family should be disregarded, so that a Christian would allow an enemy to kill a loved one, without even trying to stop him. Christ's teaching on "turning the other cheek" so an enemy should be understood in the context that while as an individual one has no right to carry out vengeance, the state does have that right. A Christian has the right to call on the state for help, and participate in carrying out the law. No soldier in the New Testament, including Cornelius, the first Gentile Christian, was ever told to stop being a soldier. A Christian may actively serve in the armed forces.

Roses Are Red... Violets Are Blue

By Melissa Prichard
Mrs. Jimmie Davis' advanced tenth grade English class has just completed a unit on poetry. The following poem was written in her class:
A kindly word,
A gentle smile,
A tender heart
That knows no guile.
Stars in his eyes,
That shine in hers;

A newfound joy
Surpassing words.
A secret smile,
A stolen kiss
A new love born -
Eternal bliss.
Mrs. Davis has taught her class about many different elements of poetry. Her students have learned many important factors in writing and interpreting poetry.

Round And About With ERIA

897-2006

***In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And the earth was without form and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. And God said, Let there be light: and there was light. And God called the light day and the darkness he called night. And the evening and the morning were the first day.

Doing "My Own Thing"

By: Faye Brown Moundville, Ala.

Every woman who's anyone nowadays is doing their own thing. Not wanting to be left out I decided to find "my thing" and then do it. During my quest friends and family members with "things" have been consulted, considered, and eventually many of them have been "cut" (from my friend list). Their things are just too different from mine. Some to be excluded in the process have been:

1) The Hearty Housekeepers. I gave up on my friend Rebecca after she had her living room decorated with snow white carpet, white velvet wingback chairs, and end tables, all shining like a brand new mirror and boasting of collector's china figurines. I sat there one day visualizing my Glen and his friends popping in, tracking their swamp mud boots onto the carpet. Then I could just see, me, eldest, Greg, running by, tossing a greasy black coat onto a white chair as he returned from his motorcycle putting- and just as my daughter Glen- and pop her dripping milk shake and her McDonald cookies onto that spotted and table, she'd prop her tired feet upon the coffee table, and I'd be singing for Christ. (The lady can really sing!)

2) Mary says, "I am a graduate of Mulberry Heights High School in Elba, attended Enterprise State Junior College, Enterprise and was class valedictorian at Essie Mae's Beauty School in Elizabeth, N.J. I also attended Sawyer Business School, Plainfield, N.Y."

I married Johnny B. Green, and I am the mother of six children and grandmother of one.

Mrs. Green is presently employed at Northern Feather, Inc., a quality control clerk and technician at Elizabeth, N.J. For five years she was employed by the Board of Education.

Mary continued, "I am a member of Mt. Telman A.M.E. Church in Elizabeth, N.J. and the praise goes to God for the blessings I've received."

"My father H.D. Williams and grandfather D.P. Williams of Ozark encouraged me to always do my best."

Elba is home and I love the people there. My constant prayer is for God to give me the strength to change the things I can. I am still singing, thanks to the people at Shady Grove A.M.E., the Hall Sisters and Harris Temple C.O.G.I.C. For giving me a chance when I needed it most.

Those who remember you are proud of you and the accomplishments you have made, Mary. It's good to know that you haven't forgotten your relatives and friends back home. God bless and keep you! ERIA

KEEPING UP WITH CHANGING TIMES... Chris Weeks, an industrial electricity graduate of 1983, has enrolled in the industrial electronics program at Douglas MacArthur State Technical College to enhance his skills. As a machinist he has been employed with Dorsey Trailers since 1983, and presently works during the evening shift as second shift maintenance electrician. "All the new equipment throughout the plant has become more electronically controlled, and more sound services are being installed," said Weeks. "Since I'm planning to stay in the electrical and electronics fields, I need to stay abreast of the technological changes. MacArthur Tech's program helps to keep practitioners and students up-to-date in the electronics field." During the day Weeks is a full-time electronics student and participates in the cooperative education program which enables him to immediately apply his electronics training at Dorsey Trailers. The cooperative education program provides students with additional learning skills by combining classroom theory and actual on-the-job experience. Weeks graduated from Kinston High School in 1981. He and his wife Rhelche and daughter Sloane, age 4, reside in Kinston.

THE KINSTON HIGH SCHOOL FFA Dairy Judging team won second place during the recent Southeast District Eliminations held in Troy. In times past the arrival of the first strawberries of the season was greeted by the strawberry social - one of America's most popular fund-raising events.

In small towns and big cities people congregated out of doors in parks or on church lawns to enjoy their favorite strawberry dessert - ice cream, big bowls of berries smothered with thick cream, and of course, strawberry shortcake.

Today, with fresh strawberries available all year round, strawberry socials have disappeared. But real strawberry lovers know that, although still special, fresh berries that have traveled cross-country can't compare to the beauty and flavor of our own homegrown Alabama strawberry.

Enjoy these ideas during the strawberry season.

Fruit Pizza
Pastry for 2-9" crusts
8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
3/4 c. sugar
1 T. milk
1 T. orange rind
2/3 c. heavy cream
1/4 c. water
1/2 c. orange juice
1/4 c. lemon juice

2 T. corn starch
1 pt. strawberries
2 medium bananas
1 11-oz. can Mandarin Oranges
1 small can pineapple chunks

Roll out pastry with 15" circle. Place in 14" pizza pan or baking sheet. Form 1/4" rim, flute edges. Prick crust with fork. Bake 425 degrees for 12 minutes. Cook on rack.

Combine cream cheese, 1/4 cup sugar, milk, orange rind. Beat till smooth. Add heavy cream - beat until thick. Spread over crust and chill.

Combine 1/2 cup sugar and corn starch in saucepan. Stir in water, orange juice, and lemon juice. Cook stirring until mixture boils. Cook one minute.

Arrange fruit and spoon mixture over fruit. Chill 2 hours. Serves 12 - 16.

Strawberry Shortcake
1 c. sifted all-purpose flour
1 t. baking powder
1/4 t. salt
1/2 c. milk
2 T. butter or margarine
3 eggs
1 c. sugar
1 t. vanilla
2 pts. strawberries OR 1 pkg. (1 lb.)

frozen unsugared strawberries, thawed
1/2 to 3/4 c. sugar
1 c. heavy cream
Sift flour, baking powder and salt onto wax paper. Heat milk with butter just to scalding; cool slightly. Beat eggs until foamy in small bowl with electric mixer.

Add the 1 cup sugar gradually until mixture is very thick and fluffy. Add vanilla.

Sprinkle flour mixture a third at a time over eggs, alternating with warm milk and beginning and ending with flour mixture. Pour into two greased and floured 8x1-1/2 inch cake pans (or one 8-inch spring-form pan).

Bake in a moderate oven - 350 for 25 minutes (35 minutes for spring-form pan) or until tops spring back when lightly pressed with fingertip. Cool layers on wire rack 10 minutes; loosen around edges with knife; turn out; cool completely.

Wash, hull and slice strawberries into a large bowl, reserving a cup for garnish. (For frozen berries, sprinkle with sugar and let stand while defrosting). Add sugar, stir lightly, crushing a few of the berries. Let stand 30 minutes or until juices run freely. Whip cream in small bowl until soft peaks form.

Place one cake layer on serving plate (split cake in half if using spring-form pan). Top with half of the cream and strawberries. Top with remaining cake layers and cream. Place remaining cake layer and cream. Place one whole strawberry in center of cake. Cut remaining reserved strawberries in half and arrange cut side up in rosette pattern over the cream. Makes 8 servings.

FREEZING STRAWBERRIES
Sort, wash, drain, and cap. Leave berries whole, crush, or slice. Pack in one part by weight of sugar to three or four parts by weight of fruit or in syrup (3 c. sugar to 4 c. water). Add ascorbic acid or ascorbic acid mixture.

To help prevent fruit from turning dark, 1/2 t. ascorbic acid may be added to each quart cold syrup just before pouring syrup over fruit. Follow directions on label when using ascorbic acid mixture. Don't add citric acid or lemon juice to syrup - they may mask natural flavors or make fruit too sour.

STRAWBERRY JAM
COOKED OR UNCOOKED
Strawberry Freezer Jam
(Uncooked)
2 c. crushed fully ripe strawberries
1 box powdered pectin
4 c. sugar

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit, let stand 10 minutes. Mix 3/4 cup water and powdered pectin in a saucepan.

Bring to a boil and boil one minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit. Continue to stir three minutes. A few sugar crystals will remain. Quickly ladle into containers. Leave 1-inch space at top for expansion, if freezing. Cover at once with lids. Let set at room temperature (up to 24 hours). Store in freezer. If used within 3 weeks, store in refrigerator. Yields 5-1/2 cups.

Strawberry Jam
(Cooked)
4-1/2 c. crushed fully ripe strawberries
1 box powdered pectin
7 c. sugar

Mix powdered pectin with fruit in a saucepan. Bring quickly to a hard boil, stirring constantly. Add sugar at once. Bring to a full rolling boil (a boil that cannot be stirred down) and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat; skim off foam with metal spoon. Ladle quickly into jars, leaving 1/8-inch space at top.

Wipe top and threads of jars with damp cloth. Seal with lids as manufacturer directs. Water bath in water bath canner for 5 minutes. Yields 8-3/4 cups.

MORE ZC "REBEL NEWS"...

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

By Jackie Herbert and Pam Franklin

The members of the senior class of 1989 have been together since kindergarten. Thirteen years ago there was no kindergarten at Zion Chapel. If parents from this community wanted their children to go to kindergarten they had to send them to Elba.

Anthony Oliver, Jamie Hurd, Dana Dean, Jackie Herbert, Rhonda Jackson, David Jackson, Randy Flowers, Randy Flowers, Fran Wallace, and JoAnn Culver all attended kindergarten in Elba together.

The next year they began first grade at Zion Chapel. Cheryl Fuller, Lee Simmons, Keith Ward, Shannon Morris, Teresa Owens, Kenneth Marler, Jeff Husey, Melissa Stephens, and Lisa Holcomb were among the students who also began Zion Chapel in the first grade.

Zion Chapel's new elementary school wasn't completed at the beginning of the year. These students can still remember having class in the old building which then became the band room and is now the Vocational Agriculture Dept. Mrs. Janice McCall and Mrs. Peggy Storey were the first-grade teachers that year.

The second-grade year brought Stacy Faison and Freddie Culver to Zion Chapel. Mrs. Rea Young and Mrs. Janice McCall were the second-grade teachers.

When the class of 1989 was in the third grade, instead of being divided into two classes they were all put together. Mrs. Betty McIntosh was their teacher. Some of the students remember her as Miss Johnson because she was married during the school year.

Stuart Nelson was added to the class that year.

As third-graders the class performed a Thanksgiving play. Two of the most memorable characters were Dana Dean as a turkey and Jeff Husey as a pumpkin.

The fourth grade gave the class their first taste of Alabama history. They completed their textbook twice under the direction of Mrs. Betty Reffegge.

The fifth grade introduced something new to the class. For most of their classes Mrs. Opal Stinson was their teacher. However, every day when it was time to read, Mrs. Stinson taught math to the sixth grade.

During that year an elementary newspaper was done by the fifth and sixth grades. As Christmas time the fifth-graders performed a Christmas play. It was probably the last time they were thought of as "angels!"

The class was divided again for their sixth-grade year. Mrs. Elizabeth Dyes and Mrs. Brenda Flowers were given the job of preparing the class of 1989 for high school.

One of the most tragic happenings of the year was when "Bernice," the class hamster, escaped from Mrs. Dyes' room during the Christmas holidays and was found "slightly" frozen two weeks later.

Rhonda Jackson, who had moved to Enterprise during the first grade, returned to Zion Chapel that year. The class performed a Halloween play that year. The cast was full of witches, ghouls, and black cats.

As seventh-graders the class was introduced to some scary experiences. If being shoved around in the halls by 200 people were bigger than they were, it was. Seventh-grade math was taught by Mr. John Frank Hudson.

The eighth-grade year was full of new faces. New Hope Junior High closed down that year and brought many new smiling faces into the class of 1989. The new students were Sabrina Griffin, Pamela Franklin, Tony Bell, Jason Turner, Shelby Acreman, Amy Senn, Michelle McLendon, Rhonda Dean, and...

Students View Films Based On History

By Gayle Pyfom

The assassination of John F. Kennedy was the subject of a series of documentaries watched by Mrs. Rachel Bryan's American History class last week. The students watched three films, each exploring a different aspect of the assassination.

The first film, "Kennedy Profile," traced the life of Kennedy from his early school years until his assassination in 1963. The students watched filming of Kennedy during his bachelor days in college and during his years as a U.S. Senator.

The documentary also had excerpts from his wedding and his campaign for president. The film ended with actual news footage of Kennedy's assassination and burial.

The second film, "Analysis of the Kennedy Assassination," was an in-depth investigation regarding the number of shots fired at Kennedy and the directions from which they were fired. Walter Cronkite, who hosted the film, discussed the possibility of there being more than one gunman.

In the last film, "Kennedy v. Wallace," the students saw how Kennedy refused to let two black students register at the University of Alabama. They saw actual footage of discussions in the White House and conferences held by Wallace with his advisors.

Mrs. Bryan showed the films to accompany the chapters in the history book pertaining to the civil rights movement and Kennedy's years as president.

Students were given surveys on attitude and their personal effectiveness; they also discussed their qualities and the qualities they would expect from their co-workers.

One of the handouts was entitled "Habits that Help." Some of the things listed were to avoid being absent, to get to work on time and to organize personal life so that it does not interfere with work.

Mrs. Wyatt was very helpful to seniors in planning a career and raising self-esteem.

Mr. Ben Wilson taught the class Driver's Education when they were in tenth grade, but he probably wouldn't admit to doing so. The class of '89 had quite a few crashes. Michelle McLendon and company totaled her father's truck while skipping school. Rhonda Jackson totaled her mother's car when a deer ran out in front of her. (Poor Bamhi!) Donna also "bumped" into a car that was turning left in the road in front of her.

Sandy Flowers totaled her mother's car. As she was turning into someone's driveway, a truck topped a hill and crashed into her head-on. Timmy Goodson also totaled his mother's car one summer.

The most unforgettable "crasher" of all was Rhonda Jackson. Rhonda apparently didn't "see" a big yellow school bus and "cut off" hit it from behind. Rhonda put the Green Lin through even more anguish that summer when she ran off the road into the ditch. (She got grounded for that one!)

Their senior year was filled with fun experiences. On Valentine's Day the senior sponsors, Gale Jackson and Sonny Shaw, gave the seniors key rings, candy, and stickers. For Easter the class made an Easter basket for Justin Lowry. The seniors also had an Easter egg hunt.

Most of all the class of 1989 will always remember their high school friendships. The 13 years of growing up together will never be forgotten by the 44 members of the class of 1989.

Of course, some of the most memorable times for the class happened while they were in Florida. During their junior and senior years the class of 1989 went to the beach every chance they got.

Spring Concert

Marks Close Of

Year For Band

By Jeff Husey

The 1989 Spring Concert was a fitting close for the Rebel Band. The high school concert band, the chorus, the intermediate band, and the fifth grade entertained the crowd with songs ranging from 60's pop, to classical Beethoven, to Dixieland jazz.
